“My sheep hear My voice, and I know them, and they follow Me.” John 10:27

One of the most comforting pictures in the Bible is that of a shepherd watching over his sheep. In Psalm 23, David tells this story of his Shepherd, the Lord. David was a shepherd, so was familiar with the role of feeding, guiding and protecting his flock. He transferred this picture to his God and ours, the Lord Jesus.

When Jesus was on earth, he echoed this sentiment and called himself the good shepherd (John 10:14). He goes before us and leads us into green pastures, beside restful waters. He restores our souls. How often do we need this in the chaos and pain of the world around us!

Come sit at the feet of your Shepherd today. He said, “My sheep hear My voice, and I know them, and they follow Me.” He will lead you down safe paths and into a place of provision and peace. Let’s stop looking around and just come to Him! Listen to His comforting voice and follow Him...

Think on this

Jesus loves you. He’s your Good Shepherd. He knows you and speaks to you. Let’s listen, and follow Him today. He is good and will lead you in good paths, that are for your good!

Prayer

Father, thank you for your constant care and love for us. Thank you that you watch over us and are concerned about the details of our lives. Lord Jesus, we look to you today as the Shepherd of our souls. We trust You and will follow Your lead. Thank you for giving us your Spirit who is with us always, to lead and guide us in Your ways and will. May Your will be done and Your kingdom come in and through us, in Jesus’ name. Amen.
